PIONEERS IN MICHIGAN TERRITORY

This is the fifth in a series of biographies of early Michigan settlers written by GSWC members who have received a Michigan Sesquicentennial Pioneer Certificate. The documentation for the stated facts is filed under the name of the pioneer in the Library of Michigan, Lansing, Michigan.

JOSEPH PATCH AND WIFE LAURA MARSDEN
JOSEPH AMSBURY AND WIFE THYRZA GILLETT, PIONEERS OF MICHIGAN

I received my Michigan Pioneer Certificates for the above named ancestors. Joseph Patch with his wife and other family members came to Michigan in the spring of 1837 from New York State. They settled first in Liberty Township, Jackson County, later moving to Bloomer Township, Montcalm County.

Joseph Amsbury with his wife and children came to Michigan in the fall of 1829 and settled in Saline, Washtenaw County. After Joseph's death about 1833, Thyrza married Henry Sweeting and the family moved to Liberty Township, Jackson County.

These two families were united through the marriage in March 1852 of Sarah Patch to Ira W. Amsbury, she having been one of Ira's pupils when he taught school in the kitchen of Joseph Patch. A more detailed account of these families is in the DSGR Magazine, Fall 1985, volume 49, number 1.

NATHANIEL MARTIN AND WIFE ALMEDA CANFIELD, MICHIGAN PIONEERS

My Michigan pioneer ancestors are Nathaniel Martin and Almeda Canfield. They are mentioned in the History of Washtenaw County (1881).

Nathaniel Martin was born in Cayuga County, New York, 12 August 1808, and was a son of John and Dorcas Martin, who were natives of Washington County, New York. His father, when a boy 13 or 14 years old, sometime during the war of the Revolution, was on his way home from the mill in company with another boy and was captured by Indians, who delivered him into the hands of the British after they had kept him some six weeks. His father procured a pass from the British general and finally, after a diligent search, found him. This narrative came from Chapman's History.

Nathaniel Martin was married 7 October 1828 to Almeda Canfield by whom he had five children including Joanna, my grandmother. Nathaniel came to Oakland County, Michigan, in 1830, and entered land in Southfield Township where he lived until 1854 when he located in Salem Township, Washtenaw County. He owned a farm of 90 acres in Section 6. He and his wife are buried in the Thayer Cemetery, a pioneer cemetery located at Napier and Six Mile Roads, Wayne County, Michigan.

Joanna Martin married Levi Deake on 25 December 1850 and shared his toil clearing farms in Salem and Lyon Township, Oakland County. She bore him nine children. Levi had come to Michigan from West Otto, Cattaraugus County, New York, in 1842.

The youngest child of Levi and Joanna Deake was Oliver Levi Deake. He married Blanche Dunham of Northville, Michigan, in 1915. Oliver and his brother Clayton E. Deake operated a dairy farm in Pittsfield Township in 1910. The farm was known as the Hillside Farm and specialized in prize-winning Jersey cattle. The farm was subdivided in the 1920s into the Washtenaw Heights Subdivision. There is a Deake Street in this subdivision between Packard and Washtenaw Avenue.

To Oliver and Blanche Deake were born two sons, Oliver J. Deake, born 1916 (deceased) and Edward D. Deake, born 1921, at Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Judge Edward Dunham Deake, Ypsilanti, Michigan

DAVID PAGE AND WIFE ELIZABETH MINOTT, ANN ARBOR PIONEERS

Both David Page and his wife, Elizabeth Minott, came from illustrious families in the Bedford and Concord, Massachusetts, areas. David was born 7 February 1767 in Bedford, the son of David Sr. and Abigail Jones. He was a soldier in the War of 1812. His father, David Sr., was called King David all his life because he wore the English Court costume all the time. His ancestor, Nathaniel Page, emigrated from the Roxbury area of England in the 1600s. He settled in Hardwick, Leicester, and Billerica, Massachusetts, and died in Boston. Elizabeth Minott was born 22 July 1767 in Concord, Massachusetts. Her parents were Captain Jonas Minott and Mary Hall. The first Minott ancestors in America, George and Martha, came from Saffron-Walden, England, and helped settle Dorchester, Massachusetts. George Minott later owned all the land around the pond believed named Walden for his home in England.

David Page and Elizabeth Minott married 25 January 1791. They lived in Vermont in the early 1800s and are listed in the 1830 Michigan census in Ann Arbor. Their children were: Elizabeth (Liza), who never married, was a highly educated teacher who supported missionaries all her life; Abigail; David; Mary Minott who married Luman Gee; William, who organized the Presbyterian Church in Ann Arbor in 1826, married Frances Durand; Thomas Bedford; Christopher Columbus; Edward Augustus; Melanie C., who married first Timothy Paige, a distant relation, and second Darius Barker. Elizabeth died 11 August 1836 in Ann Arbor and David married second Sophia Shurtleff in 1838. He died 5 April 1856 in Ann Arbor at age 90.

LUMAN GEE AND WIFE MARY PAGE

Luman Gee was born 1808 in Canada to Christopher Gee and Polly Reed. His ancestor Solomon Gee was in Lyme, Connecticut, in 1736; then migrated to Canada by way of Marlow, New Hampshire. Luman came to the Ann Arbor area following his older brother, Eldridge, who had come with his father-in-law, Epaphras Mattheson. Luman's other siblings were Edward, Christopher Jr.,

Franklin, all born in Canada, and Margaret, born in Michigan. The brothers of Luman all settled around the southeast corner of Michigan and Cleveland, Ohio.

Luman Gee married Mary Minott Page 29 April 1829 in Ann Arbor, Michigan. They had two daughters, Elizabeth born 5 February 1830, and Julia born 1833, who married Artemus Headley. Artemus is buried in Yorkville Cemetery, Kalamazoo, Michigan, in the family plot with Mary Gee who died 1 January 1861. Luman married second Martha Pease on 26 February 1861.

Elizabeth Gee married 5 February 1851 Isaac Irving Barker, son of Isaac and Mehitable Huntoon Barker. Isaac was a Congregational minister and served churches in the Rockford area of Kent County where he and Elizabeth are buried. Their children were: Hiram, Hattie Angela, Edward Irving, Frederic Irving, and Mary Elizabeth. Elizabeth died 26 March 1865 and Isaac subsequently married Josie Provin and later Naomi Peck.

Hiram Barker was born 19 October 1851 and married 17 November 1873 Martha Ann Pomeroy, daughter of Henry and Esther Carpenter Pomeroy of Ohio. Hiram was a tinsmith and farmer and the family lived in Pierson, Montcalm County. There were five children: Henry Irving, Flora Jane, Jennie Louise, Neta Mae, and Jessie Pearl.

Jessie Pearl married William Timmons, who was born in Detroit to Eugene and Augusta Pelz Timmons. He was solid Irish and she was solid Prussian! Jessie and William had two daughters, Marguerite and Dorris. Marguerite married Virgil Glocheski and Dorris married Russell Keller.

DUTCH RESEARCH IN THE NETHERLANDS

By Sharon L. Brevoort

The Netherlands Genealogical Society (Nederlandse Genealogische Vereniging), established in 1949, is composed of member societies organized regionally, usually one or more per province. The Achterhoek region, for example, incorporates the eastern half of the province of Gelderland. Regional surname indexes are available by village/town and time period.

To find out if your family is listed in any of these indices, send a list of surnames with associated town or area and time period for each to:

Mrs. D.J. Maarschalkerweerd-Leeuwerink
Afdeling "Achterhoek"
Braamkamp 479
7206 HZ Sutphen, Nederland

Inquiries must be typed or printed in block letters and accompanied by a self-addressed 9.5" envelope and two international reply coupons. Write your request in English: many Netherlanders speak fluent English since all high school students learn English as well as French and German, and television programs are broadcast in four languages.

Your list might include both patronymic list names and family surnames. Although a patronymic naming system was commonly used even as late as the 1800s, family names were also used beginning in the 1500s according to one Dutch researcher. Often when families moved to a new town, for example, they acquired a surname derived from the parish of origin (which may not be the same name as the town) when the cleric recorded their transfer to the new church.

Researchers contacted through the society are retirees who volunteer their time to do research, including travel, for anyone who will pay travel expenses: there is no charge for actual research time. (In contrast, a private researcher I hired before I discovered the N.G.V. charged me $30 per hour for his time and was less successful in obtaining information.)

Membership in the N.G.V. costs fifty guilders a year (about $25), but you do not need to be a member to make inquiries or request the aid of a researcher. To find out which regional society meets in your area of interest, or to get the name of a researcher in the province of Noord Holland, write to the following address (typed, with SAE and reply coupons):

Nederlandse Genealogische Vereniging
Postbus 976
1000 AZ Amsterdam, Nederland

Since it takes less than two hours to travel by car or bus from Amsterdam to any corner of the country, even an Amsterdammer could undertake research in other areas without great difficulty or expense.

HARMS BIBLE RECORD

Contributed by Marguerite Harms

The cover of this Bible, donated by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Harms of Ann Arbor, Michigan, is inscribed "The Holy Bible, The Old and New Testaments, Dr. Martin Luther's." It was published in Vienna, 1874, by Reichard and Company. Inside the cover is written "This Bible was bought on the 3rd of December, 1878, and belongs to me." This record is indexed in the GSWC Bible Records Registry.

The Harms family were Russian Germans who came to Detroit, Michigan in the late nineteenth century. Three of the boys changed their given names: Otto Bruno became Walter S., John Herman became Jerry, and Felyx became Bill. They and E. George played sand-lot baseball for the Detroit Edison Ball Club at Mack Park. In 1910 their team became city champions. Jerry went on to play professional ball as catcher in the Three-I League. George Walter, son of Walter, followed in their footsteps, played sand-lot baseball too, and was catcher in an American Legion team. Later he played for The University of Michigan and was captain in 1942. He signed with the New York Yankees, served in the U.S. Marine Corps, and after the war became catcher in the Northern League for the city team of Montpelier, Vermont.

The correct name of the Civil War veteran listed as Christian Zanzi, FHC, vol. 12, no. 2, p. 31, is Christian Sanzi. His widow was Christiana Haas Sanzi. Reported by grand-niece Margaret Haas Sias, GSWC member.

Re Geer and Pray Family Records, FHC, vol. 11, no. 3, p. 61. Nathan Hammond's wife was Olive Davis as found in a mimeo genealogy of Hammond Family by Hannah Smith Hammond and cited by Margery Matthews of Foster, Rhode Island Preservation Society to Ginger August, Geer Family Association.

Several corrections and additions to the same record have been sent by GSWC member Marion Pray Fox of Lansing, Michigan.
